Site description:

This was a very open treeland area with a grove of totara (Podocarpus totara) trees on the flat and isolated patches of trees and shrubs.

One item of note was the mistletoe (Tupeia antarctica) which was found growing on a lemonwood (Pittosporum eugenioides). There were at least 12 plants growing on the tree and all seemed in very good health. Ripening fruit was noted on some of the plants

The survey effort was thorough and took 3 hours
